

Antlerless Licenses

Antlerless deer license can be obtained by mail only. All antlerless applications must be mailed in the official pink envelope. No more than three applications can be sent in the same envelope.

Important things to remember when completing your Antlerless Application

- Please print plainly and remember to sign and date your application.
- Include a check or money order payable to “County Treasurer” for the correct amount $6.90 for residents and $26.90 for nonresidents
- Enter at least one Wildlife Management Unit (WMU) preference. You may select up to three WMU preferences. If the first is sold out, a license will be issued for the second, or if necessary, the third preference based on license availability.

Applications can be mail to:

Indiana County Treasurer— Indiana County Courthouse, First Floor, 825 Philadelphia Street, Indiana, PA 15701-3934

Do not mail applications to the Game Commission.

Group Applications:

All applications could be rejected if one cannot be processed because a selected WMU sold out.

If you apply with others as a group (limit of three individual applications per envelope), for the same WMU preferences, submit one check or money order for all applications.

If two or three applicants apply together in the same envelope, and one or more of the applications is not complete, all of the applications may be rejected and returned.

Application Status:

County Treasurers will accept applications on a first-come, first-served basis.

Hunters can check on the status of an antlerless deer license application by visiting www.pgc.pa.gov, clicking on Buy a License, then (PALS) and selecting the first option, which includes checking on application status.

If the license allocations for all WMU preferences are sold out, the application will be returned to the hunter. The hunter may apply to another WMU where licenses are available by using a new pink envelope.

Incomplete Application

- If an application is not complete and/or proper remittance is not enclosed, it will be rejected and returned to the applicant.

Insufficient Postage

- If the applicant failed to provide return postage, no license will be issued and the envelope will be placed in a dead letter file in the County Treasurer's office. Hunters can retrieve their dead letters by contacting the County Treasurer for instructions.
